No Sugar Relief Likely This Year

OTTAWA (CP) — Availability of shipping and supplies is the factor that will decide when sugar rationing can be terminated, a Prices Board official said this afternoon.

The rationing definitely will continue through 1946, but it is not possible at this stage to judge whether it will be necessary to extend it into 1947.

The official was commenting on a New York dispatch which quoted O. H. Lamborn, president of Lamborn and Co., sugar broker, as saying the U.S. sugar supply "will continue desperate" for the next nine months, with rationing probably continued into 1947.

Anti-Fascist Youth

BERLIN (AP) — Marshal Georgi Zhukov, chief of the Soviet military administration of Germany, ordered the creation of "anti-Fascist youth committees" today in the Russian zone. All other youth organizations, trade and sports unions, social and kindred organizations were forbidden.

B.C.E.R. Announces $4,000,000 Plan

VANCOUVER (CP) — The B.C. Electric Railway Co. today announced a $4,000,000 expansion program for the next five years which a company statement said is designed to give Vancouver "one of the finest transportation services on the North American continent."

The program includes six new routes and the introduction of electric trolley buses on some gasoline bus and streetcar routes.

Japs Retreating Toward Nanchang

CHUNGKING (AP) — The Chinese high command said today the spearhead of a Japanese force withdrawing toward Nanchang, in Kiangsi Province, had come to within 100 miles of Nanchang, 160 miles southeast of Hankow.

Nazis Dodged Taxes

PARIS (Reuters) — High-ranking Nazis succeeded in retaining huge sums of money tax-free, in direct violation of a German law, by applying to the minister of finance for illegal tax exemptions, it was disclosed today by Col. Bernard Bernstein of the financial section of the U.S. army.

Although Reichsmarshal Goering owned 15 sumptuous castles and villas and controlled a great part of the country's steel industry, he paid taxes only on his minister's salary of 27,000 Reichsmarks.

Matsuyama City 73% Destroyed

GUAM (AP) — The city of Matsuyama, Shikoku Island, was 73 per cent destroyed and the Nakajima Aircraft Company's big plant near Nagoya sustained 44 per cent damage as a result of recent Superfortress bombings, it was announced here today.

Matsuyama, with a population of 120,000, was the most important city and port on western side of Shikoku Island. It was fired by incendiaries July 27, by more than 100 planes. Damage covered 122 square miles.

The Nakajima plant was attacked July 4 by more than 50 planes dropping demolition bombs in daylight. Twenty buildings were damaged.

Bulldozers Fight Fire

TACOMA (AP) — Two hundred employees of the White River Lumber Co., Enumclaw, were using bulldozers today to fight a fire which had spread over some 800 acres of slash in logged off land, north of the Naches Pass Highway near Cyclone Creek.

Churchills Move

LONDON (CP) — Winston Churchill today moved out of 10 Downing Street after five years of occupation. Mr. Churchill went to spend a few days at his country house at Westminster, Kent, his secretary said, and was feeling "quite fit and well."

More Than 100 Killed

CALCUTTA (Reuters) — More than 100 persons were reported killed and several others injured when an airplane crashed into an open-air market at Takerhat, near Nadaripur in Bengal today.

Japanese Navy Counted As Dead

Kure, Where Allies Wiped Out Remains of Nippon's Fleet

This is the naval base, last port of what was the last of Japan's battered high seas fleet. Picture above was made during an earlier B-29 attack.

British, U.S. Sea, Air Team Sweeps Pacific

By PAUL KERN LEE

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Japanese navy is dead, by the soberly-considered testimony of Allied naval officers who killed it, yet an event so replete with the possibilities of high historic drama and so lacking in the performance could scarcely be imagined, even now that it has happened.

Three years ago, when that arrogant navy plowed the Pacific in lightning conquest that could not be stopped or even seriously delayed by the enfeebled Allies, its ultimate destruction was but a dream held by resolute optimists.

Even six months ago, after it laboriously had been whittled down, the enemy's heavy fleet, sent to a thing to anticipate the fiery fruit of some final ferocious battle or series of battles.

Instead, the collapse was possibly the greatest anticlimax of the war.

Planes Attacked

2 Chief Ship Bases

British and U.S. carrier planes went in to Yokosuka and Kure, Japan's two most powerful naval bases, and wrecked what remained of the Imperial navy. Four battleships, at least six aircraft carriers and six cruisers, plus scores of lesser warships, were caught and smashed as they lay quietly at moorings under clever but ineffective camouflage.

They did not fight back, except for fairly heavy anti-aircraft fire; their once-dominant air power scarcely ventured into the sky in defense of what was Japan's greatest military asset for purposes both of war and peace.

A staff officer of the 3rd U.S. Fleet, sitting quietly in his flagship directly off the once-bristling coast of Japan, was able to comment in flat, conclusive tones, "This is it; this is the end of the Jap navy."

207 Ships, 430 Planes Bag for 2 Days

By MORRIS LANDSBERG

GUAM (AP) — Raiding Allied carrier planes destroyed or damaged 207 Japanese vessels and 430 planes in two days — Admiral Nimitz announced today as Allied destroyers knifed deep into Suruga Gulf to bombard the enemy's largest aluminum plant.

The bombardment, 80 miles southwest of Tokyo, and carried the combined U.S.-British sea-air attacks into the 22nd consecutive day.

Preliminary reports on Monday's aerial sweeps over 400 miles of Honshu Island, and revised totals on last Saturday's devastating attack which wrote the end to the Imperial Japanese navy.

Weygand Accepts Responsibility For French Armistice In 1940

PARIS (AP) — Gen. Maxime Weygand declared today that Marshal Petain sent a secret telegram to Admiral Jean Darlan "ordering the admiral to cease operations against United States and British forces at the time of the landing in North Africa."

The general, who was commander-in-chief of French armies when Germany crushed the republic, was brought to the high court of justice under guard and in civilian dress to testify as the first defence witness in Marshal Petain's trial on charges of intelligence with the enemy and plotting against the security of France.

Marshal Petain's counsel announced they would ask for a postponement of the trial if Pierre Laval, Chief of Government in the Vichy regime, landed from a plane at Linz, Austria, today, after being ousted from Spain, where he had sought refuge when Germany collapsed.

Gen. Weygand assumed full responsibility for the armistice. He gave one of the first detailed accounts of events leading to and after the surrender of France.

He said Admiral Darlan was "completely favorable" to the Germans when Africa was invaded in the fall of 1942.

BATTLE OF NORTH

"I was not thinking of an armistice at that time," he said. "I was still fighting the battle of the north and I had plans prepared for the battle of the Somme-Aisne to follow it."

Big 3 Meetings Resumed After Stalin Unwell

POTSDAM (AP) — Premier Stalin attended a 3½-hour Big Three conference session today after a two-day absence caused by a slight head cold, it was announced tonight.

Mr. Stalin's slight illness had prevented conversations since Sunday with Prime Minister Attlee and President Truman.

It was learned that preparations for the final ceremonial session are being made. Signing of the Potsdam agreement is expected to be carried out in the glare of photographic lights and under the conditions of full protocol.

Speculation was that the wind-up would come Thursday at the latest.

The talks are understood to have reached a point where the heaviest work devolves on the Big Three themselves.

Censorship forbade speculation over the interruption in the conversations, which became known late Monday. Correspondents earlier had gained the impression there had been no lapse.

Meetings of the British, U.S. and Russian foreign secretaries have been continuing as usual since the last meeting between the three top conferees Saturday night, it was understood. This led to belief the conference might have progressed to the final decision stage.

Prime Minister Attlee, while carrying on the international duties here left off by Winston Churchill, is completing his initial domestic program for Parliamentary consideration.

In London, the Press Association reported that plans were "under consideration" for President Truman to meet the King after the Potsdam conference, possibly at Plymouth.

EXPECTED BACK IN LONDON

LONDON (CP) — Prime Minister Attlee is expected to return from Potsdam late today for the organizational meeting of the new House of Commons tomorrow.

A list of all principal ministers may be ready for the parliamentary sitting.

It was reported reliably that the King's speech opening Parliament Aug. 15 would give first priority to winning the war against Japan, with the urgent problem of housing in second place.

A well-informed source said the Attlee government already has created special committees to tackle the problems of public ownership in the fields of fuel and power, inland transport, iron and steel, starting with the British coal industry, first phase of Labor's nationalization program.

The Conservatives gained another seat when returns from Queen's University at Belfast came in. Prof. D. L. Savory, author and linguist, was re-elected easily over an Independent candidate, giving the Conservative Party 195 seats against 388 for Labor.

Plan Tremendous Welcome When Scottish Come Home

A tribute by the citizens of Victoria to all service personnel who have fought in the Second World War will be tendered one day in November when the First Battalion, Canadian Scottish Regiment, commanded by Lt. Col. Cyril Wightman, E.D., returns to this city. The exact date of the battalion's arrival is not known as yet.

A delegation, including R. W. Mayhew, M.P.-elect for Victoria; Col. H. M. Urquhart, D.S.O., A.D.C.; Lt. Col. J. R. Kingham and Lt. Col. Brooke Stephenson, waited on Mayor Percy George at the City Hall today and enlisted his co-operation in the welcome. Mayor George promised to declare a civic holiday and to request merchants and heads of industries to close their doors for a half day when the Scottish arrive.

The Service Personnel Reception Fund will be set up and citizens will be invited to contribute.

ARRIVE ON SPECIAL BOAT

Tentative plans call for the Scottish to arrive here by special boat at 2:15 in the afternoon. The Scottish will form up and headed by their own pipe band will parade to the Armories. There will be a saluting base and His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor will be asked to take the salute.

Supper will be served in the Crystal Garden to the Scottish and in the evening a monster reception will be held at the Armories to which all members of the Scottish and their lady escorts as well as all servicemen and servicewomen who have returned from this war, together with their escorts, will be invited. It is planned to make this reception the real tribute from the citizens to all those who have served overseas.

The First Battalion Canadian Scottish Regiment left Victoria under command of Col. J. R. Kingham Oct. 5, 1940, and after training at Debert, N.S., went overseas, where it remained until D-Day. From then on the Scottish were in the heavy fighting through France, Belgium, Holland and Germany.

Packinghouse Strikers, Management Agree On Judge Richards As Arbiter

By The Canadian Press

Striking members of the United Packinghouse Workers of America (C.I.O.) local 114 voted today to accept the terms under which Mr. Justice S. E. Richards of Winnipeg notified their officers they would agree to arbitrate the dispute which has tied up five Toronto plants of Canada Packers Ltd. and spread to four other Canadian cities.

They directed their officers at a meeting this morning to seek to open negotiations with the firm on the basis of Mr. Justice Richards' terms, made known to both the union and Canada Packers' officials by wire today.

No details of the terms were made public.

In Winnipeg today, Mr. Justice Richards maintained that he is still "undecided." He declined to go further.

Officials of Canada Packers in Toronto—hub of the week-old strike—conferred this morning, presumably on factors arising from the Richards wire. Of their seven packing plants in Canada five now are tied up, plus four subsidiary plants in Toronto. The exceptions are those in Montreal and Hull, where the employees' union has an A.F.L. affiliation.

The strike was complicated earlier today by new strike votes in Saskatoon and Winnipeg.

With an estimated 5,300 Canada Packers' employees already out in Toronto, Peterborough, Ont., Winnipeg, Edmonton and Vancouver, union members in one Saskatoon and six Winnipeg plants owned by other companies, voted to walk out Thursday morning in sympathy with the other strikers.

The prairie votes came shortly after union and management officials in Toronto had agreed to ask members of the former

Richards Meat Commission to arbitrate the dispute.

The arbitration proposal came from the union late Monday and was immediately accepted by J. S. McLean, president of Canada Packers. Fred Dowling, national director of the U.P.W.A., later expressed hope the Toronto strikers would be back at work by Thursday, and both union and management said they expected renewed negotiations would begin today.

Shortly after the development in Toronto, union members in the six Winnipeg plants voted to strike Thursday in sympathy with the nearly 1,000 Canada Packers already out at Winnipeg.

Plants involved in Monday night's vote are: the Manitoba Cold Storage Company Western Packers, St. Boniface Abattoir, Public Abattoir, Farmers' Abattoir and Swift Canadian Company.

TO VOTE TONIGHT

Union officials said the work stoppage Thursday would affect approximately 1,200 workers.

There are also possibilities that employees of Burns & Company in Winnipeg will follow the six other firms to the picket line.

Union members in that plant will hold a strike vote tonight.

The Saskatoon strike vote was at the local plant of Intercontinental Pork Packers Ltd., and involved 300 employees. Union officials said the walkout would take place Thursday unless the Toronto Canada Packers' strike should be settled by that time.

In Edmonton, meanwhile, John Lenglet, international representative of the U.P.W.A., said more than 500 Canada Packers employees on strike in the foothills city would return to work "as soon as we are notified Toronto workers have done so."

In Vancouver, William Symington, business agent for the U.P.W.A., said he had no comment to make on the union arbitration plan originating in Toronto.

R.C.A.F. Helmets To Be Sold in Stores

About 3,000 R.C.A.F. leather flying helmets, first of a number of articles of flying equipment to be placed on the market, will go on sale in British Columbia department stores within a week or 10 days.

War Assets Corporation announces that 30,000 of the chammois-lined helmets will be sold across Canada. Fifteen thousand pairs of airmen's gauntlets and 20,000 air force belts also will be put on sale shortly. A number of flying goggles also will be marketed.

The goods have been purchased from the corporation by department stores and the shipments are expected to arrive soon. Only new belts will be sold in Canada—thousands of used R.C.A.F. and army belts will go with clothing sold for relief in Europe.

Sailors of Corvette Leaside Come Home Wearing Earrings

OTTAWA (CP)—Gold earrings, once a characteristic adornment of the bold buccaneers of bygone seafaring sagas, have made a re-appearance in the Royal Canadian Navy.

Rings dangling from their ears, sailors from H.M.C.S. Leaside created considerable stir in the streets of old Quebec when they came ashore after the Canadian corvette had tied up in the Citadel's harbor recently, the navy said today in a release.

The navy boys wear only one ring, and to wear it properly—according to them—the lobe of the ear must be perforated and a clasp inserted from which the ring dangles.

The fad started on the Leaside after P.O. Gilbert (Trapper) Mailman of Bayand, Man., picked up the idea while on shore leave in England. He paid a pound sterling to have his ear pierced and a gold earring inserted and when he got back to ship "everybody on board wanted the same doings."

Enterprising L.S. Jack Varrin of Schreiber, Ont., took advantage of the situation and with sterilized needle and ordinary cotton thread began ear-piercing operations in the Leaside's sick bay. More than 50 per cent of the crew including the commanding officer, Lieut. Gordon G. K. Holder, Saint John, N.B., volunteered for Varrin's "needling" artistry.

Capt. J. T. Hamilton Named C.P.R. Marine Superintendent Here

Capt. J. T. Hamilton of Vancouver, has been appointed marine superintendent at Victoria for the B.C. Coast Steamship Service, Capt. O. J. Williams, manager B.C. Coast Service, announced today.

Capt. Hamilton, who will be in charge of many operating details of the 18-ship fleet which serves coastal waters from Seattle to Alaska, was born in New Westminster. After one season with the whaling fleet out of Victoria, he joined the Canadian Pacific in 1917, became an officer two years later and served in every ship and on all routes. He became assistant marine superintendent in 1941.

New Lieut.-Governor

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister King Monday night announced the resignation from the government of Revenue Minister D. L. MacLaren and his appointment as Lieutenant-Governor of New Brunswick, effective Nov. 1, when the present Lieutenant-Governor, Hon. W. G. Clark, will retire.

High Point Key Men Needed for Jobs Overseas

New Canadian Chief of Staff, Lt. Gen. Foulkes, who became widely known as a corps commander in Europe, with his wife in the garden of their London home soon after his arrival from overseas Monday.

Not a senior officer with the Canadian army in Europe has been returned to Canada unless he is either taking up a special appointment or going to the Pacific, according to Lt. Gen. Charles Foulkes, C.B., C.B.E., D.S.O.

Lt. Gen. Foulkes, a former Victorian who rose from the rank of captain to be a corps commander in Italy and the western front, discussed details of the point system, the German surrender which he accepted in Holland and the collapse of Nazism, soon after his arrival here Monday. He will spend three weeks with his wife and son, Phillip, at their home, 3155 Rutland Road, before going to Ottawa, to be Chief of the General Staff.

COOKS, CLERKS REMAIN

"The point system," he said, "is only the basis of a plan for returning men and the difficulty is that men in certain jobs must always stay behind as a framework for the army. They include cooks, clerks and quartermasters, who although they may have a high number of points, cannot be returned immediately."

Lt. Gen. Foulkes said the present quota of returning 25,000 men a month is being maintained and that there is a strong chance of this figure being increased in the fall.

He described abolition of a separate office of the director-general of the Reserve Army announced in Ottawa Monday, and the placing of Reserve Army under the Chief of Staff again as "a return to the peacetime set up." He noted that direction of the Reserve Army was formerly always under the Chief of Staff.

"My observation is that the whole nation has collapsed," he said of Nazi Germany. "Their entire administration has gone down because all officials were of the Nazi party."

Lt. Gen. Foulkes revealed that by the time the collapse of Germany was imminent the peace terms were drawn up and ready for signing. Preliminary talks on food supplies with Colonel-General Blaskowitz, Nazi commander in Holland, gave the opportunity for discussing surrender, also. He referred to Blaskowitz's attitude as "truculent."

PO VALLEY WORST

Worst battle conditions encountered by the Canadians, he said, were in the Po Valley last December. He commanded the 1st Canadian Corps in Italy and later in northwest Europe and also the Second Canadian Corps in western Europe where he saw action from Caen to the Schelde Estuary.

Lt. Gen. Foulkes made the 6,000-mile trip from Prestwick to the coast by T.C.A. He left Scotland last Thursday and came to Ottawa by way of Goose Bay and Montreal. In the capital he spent a day in discussion with Defence Minister McNaughton. He arrived in Vancouver Saturday where he was welcomed by his wife and son.

3 Soldiers Charged With Mutiny As Aftermath of Aldershot Riot

By ROSS MUNRO
ALDERSHOT, Eng. (CP)—Charge of causing a mutiny was laid today at a Canadian general court-martial against the first of three Canadian soldiers arrested in connection with riots in this garrison town the nights of July 4 and 5.

Soldiers who appeared before the court, assembled in a drab barracks room in the centre of the Aldershot camp, were:

Pte. Lloyd States, negro, New Glasgow, N.S., of the Royal Canadian Regiment, an Ontario permanent force unit, facing six charges, including that of causing mutiny.

Sgt. Emmanuel Schuler, Burnsville, Sask., of the Lord Strathcona Horse, Winnipeg, facing four charges.

Pte. I. L. MacIntyre, St. John's, P.E.I., of the R.C.A.S.C., facing three charges.

Two other soldiers will face a field general court-martial later. Maj. G. M. Graham, Halifax, is judge advocate-general and members of the court are Brig. T. J. Rutherford, Owen Sound, Ont., Col. R. C. Clark, Vancouver, B.C., Lt. Col. R. B. Forbes, Fredericton, N.B., and Maj. T. M. Cantlie, New Glasgow, N.S.

Prosecutor is Capt. N. J. McNeill, Calgary, and officers for the defence are Maj. J. R. Hyde, Montreal, defending States, Capt. H. F. Gibson, Kingston, Ont., defending Schuler, and Maj. J. W. G. Hunter, Toronto, defending MacIntyre.

OBJECTS TO COURT

As the court opened, the defence for Schuler and States objected to the president and members of the court. Gibson said all officers of the court were from Canadian replacement units, and he felt it would be "fairer" if the court were composed of officers from northwest Europe.

After considerable discussion, Graham said the objections could not be sustained, and the court was sworn in.

States, first of the three accused, was called before the court and charged with causing mutiny, endeavoring to persuade others to join in a mutiny, doing malicious damage, and inciting to do damage.

Charges against Schuler and MacIntyre will be read when they are called.

(The Press-Associated said all three accused faced mutiny charges.)

Hyde, opening his defence, said charges against States had been investigated about July 7 by a competent officer, and as a result of the investigation the accused was released and dispatched for repatriation to Canada.

Two witnesses were called. Lt. Col. W. G. Myatt, Edmonton, commanding officer of a wing in No. 5 Repatriation Depot, said that on the night of July 5 a negro soldier among Canadian rioters had swung a punch at him.

States later was put under close arrest, but as a result of the investigation he was released and Myatt himself rushed him to the station in his own car so he could catch up with his repatriation draft as it was leaving Aldershot.

Lt. Col. R. M. Wynn, Calgary, Officer Commanding a wing of No. 7 Depot, also testified.

Hyde said States had been dealt with summarily by an officer competent to deal with the case and he submitted that the case against the accused had been dismissed and that States should not be tried here now.

CHARGES STAND

Prosecutor McNeill said there had been no dismissal of charges laid before the present court. There was a delay while the court considered the submission of the defence, but after 10 minutes, Graham announced the defence claim was not held valid and the trial of States would proceed.

Shortly before the lunch-hour adjournment, McNeill opened his case against the accused.

"I will call evidence that at the time under consideration there was a tumultuous gathering of soldiers," he said. "I believe I can show that their mood was ugly and that it defied lawful military authority."

"Things that the crowd did constituted a mutiny in my opinion. I will bring evidence to prove that the accused was a member of the crowd."

2,000 More Japs Killed On Sittang

CALCUTTA (AP)—An additional 2,000 Japanese troops have been reported killed by British troops in the lower Sittang River bend area of Burma, Southeast Asia Command headquarters said today, bringing the total enemy dead in nine days of fighting to more than 6,000.

This figure does not include those killed by Allied guerrilla forces, the British announced. More than 600 have been captured.

Esquimalt Adopts New Policy For Casual Labor

A new policy regarding casual labor was adopted by the Esquimalt council Monday night. It was decided on the motion of Councillor J. P. A. Christensen that casual labor engaged by the municipality from Aug. 1 should be employed on an hourly basis with no holidays or sick pay for the first twelve months. Then, the casual laborer would be entitled to one week's vacation and consideration would be given to putting the man on a monthly basis.

Application for a permit to build a sports dressing room at Bullen's Park was moved by Councillor Christensen after a report on the proposed structure made by the municipal engineer was read. A drafted sketch was shown to the councillors and an estimate of $1,200 was given, which included heating for heating the showers to be installed.

Council agreed to the appointment of a school and public health nurse, for whom it would provide an office and pay 50 per cent of salary.

Councillor J. A. Ellis moved that the representative of the Canadian Line Material be contacted and efforts be made to secure 12 units for the street lighting system at a cost of $20 a unit.

Appointment of the social welfare officer on the joint committee of the Greater Victoria Welfare Centre to study the question of a proposed nursing home on lower Vancouver Island was carried.

Endorsement of the Citizens' Rehabilitation Council plan for a joint welcome-home entertainment for returned servicemen by the four municipalities was given when Councillor Guillemaud moved the adoption of the report on the last Rehabilitation Council executive meeting by Councillor Ellis.

Also endorsed was a resolution in favor of a burial park for war veterans in the Greater Victoria area.

A petition seeking removal of bushes at Memorial Park was referred to the Parks Committee.

Councillor Christensen extended to council an invitation to the Garage and Motor Trades picnic at Beaver Lake Sunday, which was accepted.

A letter from the Canadian United Allied Relief Fund asking for clothing for the people of continental Europe was referred to the Red Cross.

Astronomy Lecture By Gordon Shaw

In the first of a series, "Summer Evenings With the Stars," held Monday night at Victoria College, Gordon Shaw, under auspices of the Victoria Centre of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada, spoke on "What Is a Star?"

Stars are like the sun, he said. Dead worlds, composed only of gases. Intense heat at the sun's centre, 40,000,000 degrees, plus pressure of thousands of millions of atmospheres, stabilized heat radiation, Mr. Shaw explained.

Largest of the stars would contain the earth's orbit. Between 80 and 70 of the elements of the earth have been discovered in the atmosphere of the sun, including gold. Sun spots, caverns in the sun's surface, are large enough to contain the world, he said.

Invention of the spectroscopic aided study of the stars, identifying sun and stars as similar bodies, Mr. Shaw pointed out.

Lecture was illustrated with slides. Dr. K. O. Wright was chairman.

H.M.C.S. Malaspina For Sale By Tender

Tenders for purchase of the 118-foot coal-burning H.M.C.S. Malaspina, a vessel of some years' service in the coastal waters, are now being received by War Assets Corporation. She served during the Great War as a naval examination ship off Esquimalt and remained with the navy until 1932 when she was taken over by the Fisheries Department as a patrol vessel. At outbreak of this war, she was again called into naval service and acted as an examination and supply vessel. Finally tied up last year, she is now lying at Esquimalt. Malaspina's speed is from 10 to 12 knots.

Commission Considers Evidence On Taxation of Co-Operatives

By JAMES McCOOK

OTTAWA (CP)—Evidence assembled from British Columbia to Nova Scotia and given by witnesses from cities and tiny hamlets today is being scrutinized by a five-man royal commission which will recommend to the federal government on whether tax regulations governing co-operatives shall be revised.

At present, co-operatives generally are exempt from income and excess profits tax if the bulk of their business is with members. Actual membership is more than 600,000. The annual volume of their business in Canada is estimated at more than $350,000,000.

In a brief presented to the commission by the Income Taxpayers' Association the loss to the Dominion due to co-operatives' exemption was estimated at $17,500,000 in taxes.

IN PUBLIC INTEREST

This figure was challenged by the co-operatives. They maintained that the encouragement of co-operatives, as a means of self-help, was in the public interest, that exemptions should be continued and that, even if income and excess profits tax had been collected, the total received by the Dominion in a year would have been $2,250,000, not $17,500,000.

Mr. Justice Errol McDougall of Montreal was named chairman of the commission when it was announced by the federal government last year.

Clarification of the section of the Income Tax Act which exempts co-operatives long had been sought by both the co-operatives and independent organizations. The National Revenue Department has held some co-operatives liable for taxation, but the rulings have been challenged. Cases brought up for court decision have been postponed pending the commission's report, which may be presented in September.

FOLLOW PIONEERS

The commission heard from co-operatives large and small—from tiny credit unions in farm communities to the prairie wheat pools, which count their membership in tens of thousands. They said that, irrespective of their size, they were true to the principles of the humble Rochdale pioneers in England who, 100 years ago, developed basic co-operative principles designed to help men and women of modest means by united action.

But on the other hand, independent businesses set forth that the co-operatives had grown to a

Ickes Offered Job Of Writing Column

WASHINGTON (AP)—Interior Secretary Ickes, it was learned Monday, has been offered a job as a syndicated columnist for newspapers if he leaves President Truman's cabinet. The column would deal with domestic and international affairs.

Mr. Ickes, recently reported as likely to resign his post, has frequently been critical of newspapers and columnists, terming the latter "calumnists."

Allies Divided On Treatment To Be Dealt Emperor of Japan

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Allied councils are divided sharply over the treatment to be accorded Emperor Hirohito of Japan.

The difference of views is understood here to have been the basic reason why the Potsdam ultimatum to Japan omitted all reference to Hirohito or to the monarchy as an institution.

As a result, the way still is open for the Japanese to try to save their emperor as the pinnacle of their government. However, some officials say they are hurrying their chances by delaying inevitable capitulation.

Although Premier Suzuki's rejection of the Potsdam demand is described here as something of a poker move in the hope of winning higher stakes, there is at the moment a lessening hope

No Inquiry Into Exclusion Of Press From Trial In Victoria

Attorney-General R. L. Maitland of British Columbia says the "exclusion of the public (from hearings of court actions) should apply either wholly or not at all."

Mr. Maitland made his statement Monday in a letter to the British Columbia Daily Newspapers Association. The letter was a reply to the association's request for an inquiry into an order by Mr. Justice A. M. Manson.

Mr. Justice Manson excluded press representatives from the hearing of a civil action at Victoria in June involving a will. In an interview later, Mr. Justice Manson told reporters he had excluded only the press and not "the public."

Chief Justice Farris issued a ruling in connection with a request by the B.C. Law Society. A lawyer had been suspended by the Law Society. He appealed. Chief Justice Farris and four other Supreme Court judges heard the appeal. The four others, including Mr. Justice A. M. Manson, concurred in the

Fruit Crops Show Improvement Except For Apples, Logans

OTTAWA (CP)—The outlook for fruit crops, except apples and loganberries, improved this month, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported Monday.

Apple prospects declined 6 per cent since the end of June to bring the anticipated harvest to 7,716,000 bushels. The crop this year is 57 per cent below that of last season of 17,829,000 bushels and is 43 per cent below the 10-year 1934-43 average of 13,631,000 bushels.

There was an increase in the expected crop of pears. Declines in the prospects for the crops in Nova Scotia and Ontario were more than offset by an 8 per cent increase in British Columbia which brings the Canadian total to 588,000 bushels. The current estimate, however, is still 34 per cent below the 1944 level but is only 3 per cent smaller than the 10-year average.

Plums and prunes also showed improvement during the month, the result of the increase in the estimate in British Columbia. The production this season now is set at 420,000 bushels, or 21 per cent smaller than the 1944 harvest of 534,000 bushels. The current crop, however, is 34 per cent larger than the 10-year average production.

Increases in the anticipated harvest of peaches since June in Ontario and British Columbia brought the total for Canada to 1,478,000 bushels, or 13 per cent below the 1944 level.

Cwac Pipe Band Reaches Britain

LONDON (CP)—The celebrated pipe band of the Canadian Women's Army Corps has arrived in the United Kingdom and will leave shortly for the continent to join the C.W.A.C. military band which is touring Canadian army camps there.

The pipers, led by Pipe Major Lillian Grant of Victoria, B.C., fittingly arrived in Scotland aboard the Ile de France, and as the liner moved up the Clyde the girls lined the sun deck and piped her into port. The burly dock hands at Gourock watched and listened with amazement.

There were shouts of approval and applause, an one old Scot remarked the playing of the Canadian lassies compared favorably with that of any Scottish bands.

During the Atlantic crossing the girls gave concerts every night. The ship's company presented them with an ensign at the end of the voyage.

No Saturday Dances For 3 Juveniles

WINNIPEG (CP)—For one year, three juveniles held responsible for a $10,000 warehouse fire at Killarney, Man., July 22, must not attend any Saturday night dances, and must observe a 1 a.m. curfew, Judge P. A. E. Hamilton ruled in juvenile court here Monday.

The boys, all 17 years of age, were placed on probation for one year when they pleaded guilty to a charge of breaking and entering the warehouse with intent to commit theft.

They were returning from a dance when their car ran out of gasoline. They entered the warehouse, in search of more, lighting a match which started the fire, the court was told.

Judge Hamilton also ordered the trio to pay out of their own earnings the cost of bringing the fire department of Boissevain to Killarney, and the medical expenses of F. Woodward, Killarney volunteer fireman, injured during the fire.

Check Low Flying

TORONTO (CP)—Mayor Robert Saunders issued a statement Monday declaring too many "illegals" are being taken by aircraft flying over the city and that low-flying over the metropolitan area must end. He cited the crash of a U.S. bomber into the Empire State Building Saturday as an example of what might happen if low-flying continued.

Accept Resignation Of Elliott Roosevelt

WASHINGTON (AP)—Brig. Gen. Elliott Roosevelt's military service will end Aug. 15, it was announced Monday night by the War Department which, Sunday night, had disclosed that Gen. Roosevelt had asked to be released from service.

The department said Gen. Roosevelt had originally asked May 11 to be relieved and that his decision to relieve him had been taken "before the appearance of recent publicity with respect to certain financial transactions."

The 34-year-old officer's financial affairs have been under official government inquiry for several weeks, as a result of reports that he received a $200,000 loan from John Hartford, president of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company, which was settled for $4,000.

"No information regarding these matters," the army said, "was in the possession of the War Department at the time the release (of Roosevelt) was authorized."

Charles Todd, 742 Johnson Street, suffered bruises to his left leg when he was struck by a car driven by A. F. Finck at the intersection of Broad and Johnson Streets, Monday, city police report. Mr. Todd was brought to the station by Mr. Finck.

THE MILEAGE YOU NEED NOW, PLUS POST-WAR MILEAGE

Before the war, you drove long mileages on natural rubber. You can get the mileage you need today, and for post-war driving, from B. F. Goodrich Synthetic Rubber Tires for passenger cars.

B. F. Goodrich Synthetic Rubber Tires have been proved capable of just as much mileage as pre-war natural rubber tires. Their performance is solidly based on four time-proven and road-proven realities:

- HI-FLEX CORD—stronger, more elastic; long a feature of B. F. Goodrich truck tires and now used for the first time in B. F. Goodrich Synthetic Rubber Tires for passenger cars.
- PLY-WELD CONSTRUCTION—giving added sturdiness, welding the tire body into an integral unit.
- LIFESAVER TREAD—non-skid, bruise-resisting, and long wearing.
- B. F. GOODRICH KNOW HOW—the priceless ingredient, compounded of the extra experience and skill in handling synthetic rubber that goes into every B. F. Goodrich passenger car tire—Right From The Start!

Consider the long trips you intend to make in Post-War days... the safety you will need when highway traffic steps up again. Get the tires that are built today for tomorrow's driving. Insist on B. F. Goodrich Synthetic Rubber Tires for your car.

MONTY'S EIGHTH ARMY

PHYSICALLY THE EIGHTH ARMY IS disbanded; but it will always live in the annals of history as a great brotherhood of man which, under unparalleled disabilities, turned unmitigated disaster into unending triumph. The scope of its accomplishment cannot be measured in miles or in material.
The miracle of its organization, which achieved such perfect co-ordination between land, sea and air forces and set a precedent for the final invasion of Europe through Normandy, remains to this day, like so many other "miracles" of the war—something of a mystery to all but those who actually accomplished it.

The courage with which Mr. Churchill denuded Britain, under the threat of invasion, to bolster its tank division; the leadership of Montgomery in the field and Alexander at the base; the inspired devotion and enthusiasm of its men—all these things may be set down in the records of its accomplishment. But what can never be set down is the confidence it inspired in the minds and hearts of those untold millions of a depressed and despairing humanity that they would be rescued from the darkness of evil which had overwhelmed them. It was the Eighth Army which kept alive hope, without which all would have been lost, for it was the early triumph of this magnificent but comparatively small force over Graziani's powerful Italian army which enabled Britain to retain just that margin of strength to make victory certain in the end.

While it may be thought of first of all purely as an army, it never considered itself in that light. Without the navy on its flank, without the air force covering it and scouting for it, it could never have made that march from El Alamein to Tunisia, where it joined up with the Americans under General Eisenhower. And there is no greater accolade among the Canadians of the first corps than that conferred by the knowledge that they formed part of that great brotherhood known in army annals as the Eighth, but to all the world as the Desert Rats.

CONGRATULATIONS, SKIPPER!

FOUR YEARS AFTER HE EMBARKED
on the career of a sailor, at the age of 19, Capt. Oliver J. Williams came to Canada and one year later joined the B.C. Coast Service of the Canadian Pacific Railway as a junior officer. Today he is manager of the B.C. Coast Service. To those who know him
this rapid promotion is not at all surprising.
He knew his job and the company knew its man.

His friends will be congratulating him on his achievement. But Victoria, which realizes to the full the importance of his job, is congratulating itself on the opportunity of making use of his experience and organizing ability. The B.C. Coast Service has been in the past one of the best administrations British Columbia has ever had.
While the coast itself is the attraction on which the service has been established, the tourist,
taking advantage of it appreciates the excellent service given.

Victoria is looking forward to still further extension of that service under Capt.
Williams. He succeeds Capt. R. W. Mc-Murray, who will be much missed. He has now been appointed managing director of Canadian Pacific Steamships Limited. This elevation is no doubt an augury of what the future holds out to his successor.

STILL A MANPOWER PROBLEM

THE END OF HOSTILITIES IN EUROPE
has not alleviated the manpower problem in Canada. In fact, the demand for labor is possibly greater today than ever before,
while the number of workers seeking employment is exceptionally small. Thus, for example, Mr. B. G. Sullivan, Regional Director of the National Selective Service of Ontario, recently stated that there were 46,550 vacancies to fill in the province but only 5,482 applicants were available.

The situation is further aggravated by the fact that many workers released from war work are reluctant to accept lower paid jobs. It is apparent that an early solution to the manpower problem depends chiefly on the demobilization of a substantial number of men and women now in the services and on a more rapid cutback in war production than is contemplated at the present time. Up to now, the number of soldiers returned from the European war theatre has been comparatively small. Furthermore, most of them are taking a vacation before actually seeking employment.

The manpower shortage is particularly felt in the mining, textile and construction industries. Unless the situation is alleviated in the immediate future, it is feared that the labor shortage may handicap the reconversion of industry from war to peace. It is evident, however, that the difficult situation which prevails at present will prove to be relatively temporary in character. The number of men and women released from the services is bound to increase and the prospect is that, by the end of the year, cutbacks in the production of war materials will have released a substantial number of workers for civilian production.

PRACTICE OF HUMANITY

WHEN M. EDOUARD HERRIOT, GIVING evidence in the trial of Marshal Petain, exclaimed "I prefer to be shot by the Germans rather than be hated by the French," he was not dramatizing but emphasizing a principle which distinguished resistance to the Nazis from collaboration with them. M. Herriot knew there could be no compromise between the objectives of German policy towards not only France but all civilized peoples;
that "collaboration" meant not merely a passive acceptance of military defeat but an active participation in the destruction of a moral foundation for human relationship. It was not the material or economic enslavement of all Europe to Germany, but the triumphant domination of a philosophy based on "the end justifies the means," to which M. Herriot was directing attention.
The acceptance of such a philosophy can be used to justify any action, merely by the glorification of the objective. A man can delude himself into lying, cheating, torturing and massacring merely by convincing himself that the objective he has in view is good. If that delusion is persistent enough, every action he takes to achieve the objective becomes endowed with the virtues of consistency and sincerity. From that point of view, any evil is excusable, provided that the achievement is regarded not only as attainable but of value to humanity.

M. Herriot was merely enunciating what to him was commonplace. Rather than adopt such a philosophy which is the foundation of German militarism, he prefers to die. He would rather be shot than hated by those people to whom the civilization of France is not merely patriotism but the practice of humanity.

PAST OR FUTURE?

THE DEVELOPMENT OF CAMPBELL
River as another power project by the Coalition government excites the gravest misapprehensions of a respected contemporary. Apparently it would regard an investment by "private enterprise" in such a development as a necessary corollary to the establishment of any "industry" that is not yet in existence" and to the benefit of "a few scattered rural communities." It ignores the fact that the development of natural resources is today a public enterprise, and the utilization of those resources by private enterprise is the logical aftermath of such development.

Rural districts which have large but undeveloped primary resources, such as power, ground round these secondary industries. They become attractive to settlement because they can furnish those modern conveniences without which rural communities stagnate in the backwoods of the past. The whole Campbell River area is part of the tourist empire which, it goes without saying, the contemporary we have in mind would admittedly be most anxious to develop. Tourists will not tour without a guarantee of these modern conveniences, any more than pulp and paper mills, raw materials for plastics, and other similar industries can operate without power. Power is just as important as good roads. Both are stimulants to, not the rivals of, private enterprise.
Hindsight is a valuable asset if one is to walk backwards; but a little foresight, added to a little confidence, is necessary to forward progress.

WHY THE DELAY?

EVIDENTLY JUSTICE ROBERT H. JACKson, special prosecutor for the United States, is getting impatient with the delay in bringing war criminals to trial. He is reported to have told British, Russian, and French representatives that an agreement to begin must be reached this week, otherwise his country will replace words with action. Since most of the "top drawer" Nazi thugs are in American hands, such a course would seem to present little or no difficulty.

Popular magazines and uncensored newspaper articles for months past have been cataloguing Nazi war crimes—replete with all their ghastly details in word and picture.
In other words, the public obviously will agree with the American Supreme Court judge in his desire to get on with the trials;
for those who remember the sham trials of some of the Kaiser's thugs after the first Great War will begin to wonder if the members of the War Crimes Commission have begun to go "soft." This is scarcely likely, of course, but the average layman
in Allied lands will feel more comfortable in his mind when former high Nazi officials are dealt with according to their deserts.

ROLLING DOLLARS AGAIN

PROVIDED REPORTS ARE CORRECT,
the dollars will start rolling again in Canada shortly. "Cartwheels" are to be minted and distributed to an unsuspecting people who will be weighed down literally by their wealth. It is questionable if the move is wise under wartime conditions; the "austerity" trousers are not made for pockets full of silver dollars. There is not room for all that hardware in the undraped slacks. However, there are some who like the jingle of coins in their pockets, meagre as the pocket-room is, and they will be happy. Pleased, too, will be the collectors who, on presenting the coin at the bank,
can get exactly one dollar for it.

The return to the big silver discs will,
nevertheless, be disagreeable to those who like "folding money," which undoubtedly is more convenient than the outside coins. At all events, the reintroduction of the "cartwheel" will not create the confusion arising from the brown five-cent piece which a short time ago was substituted for a "nickel" when the nickel went to war.

Digging them out is too costly. Can't somebody invent a way to smother the Japs
when they hole up like other rats?

Bargaining Points

By B. T. RICHARDSON

WASHINGTON.
THE BRETON WOODS proposals recently adopted by the United States Senate on the basis, and as set down in the report of the banking committee of the Senate, "are the foundation of the United Nations' program for international economic co-operation."
Bearing this in mind, it is of interest to note the nature of the opposition to the proposals. Senator Robert Taft, the Ohio Republican, led the attack. Even without understanding the details of the proposed international bank, and international stabilization fund, one could hardly mistake the intention of the Taft onslaught. It was based on the broad contention that the United States would be better off to utilize its bargaining power in world affairs to secure concessions for American trade, than to accept the commitments of a multilateral scheme.
"Why not," asked Senator Taft, "hold out the proposed contribution of $6,000,000,000 as a bargaining weapon in the final settlement with other nations?"

THE EXISTENCE of a group of irreconcilables to whom membership in international organizations remains an irksome prospect, is clear to discern in the Bretton Woods debate. This group exists chiefly within the Republican party. The position of the Senate with respect to Bretton Woods offers a contrast to the position with respect to the United Nations Charter, for which the Senate is almost unanimously in favor.
Most of those who have doubts about the Charter are satisfied the United States can withdraw, if withdrawal is desirable. They are, as the columnist, Marquis Childs, said, like guests at a brand new hotel whose first concern is whether the fire escapes are in working order.

BUT THE DETAILS of economic co-operation raise other questions in the minds of this group. Senator Taft calculated that, including relief, demands on U.S. funds from foreign countries would amount to $21.6
billion in the year beginning July 1, 1945, not counting a possible loan of three to five billion dollars to Britain and one to Russia of six billions. He thought "we probably can do it for five or six billions and obtain the results we wish to obtain." Senator Charles Tobey (R., New Hampshire), a former isolationist, compared the amount of $6,000,000,000 which United States was asked to contribute for the Bretton Woods institutions with the $8,000,000,000 a month which the United States is furnishing at present "to kill people." These institutions would help to provide conditions, he said,
in which it would not be necessary to kill people.

IN TERMS OF THE Canadian national income, the Taft proposal for limiting foreign loans and other assistance would mean cutting down a program of $1,500,- 000,000 to about $250,000,000. But the congressional record makes it clear that Senator Taft's objections are not based primarily on the risk of losing American money. His proposition is that United States should preserve its "bargaining power" chiefly to secure trade concessions from the British,
the sterling area, from Russia and others.
These are, his argument shows, "the results
we wish to obtain." He said: "Take the case of the British. I say the fund will not result in removing any of the British trade restrictions. Lord Keynes says that the advantage of the fund is that they can continue all their restrictions."

Senator Taft cited examples in which buyers in Egypt and India could not purchase American goods because the British,
in effect, had said: "We owe you a great deal of sterling, and if you want to be paid you must buy your goods in England." He said Great Britain owed $15,000,000,000 abroad
as a result of the war and that, in the sterling area, "our trade is practically cut off."

A WARNING FROM Senator Brewster that the United States' bargaining position might be exaggerated in the minds of some Americans, served to suggest that belated recognition has reached the U.S.
Senate that Britain and other countries retain considerable bargaining power of their own. But the official American attitude was expressed succinctly by Senator Robert Wagner (D., New York) who introduced the Bretton Woods bill. "Britain's principal problem," he said, "is one of organizing her foreign trade so that she will secure sufficient foreign exchange from her trade and other international business to pay for the imports which she must buy for her industries and to maintain adequate living standards. Britain can do this only if world trade is stabilized at a relatively high level.
Britain's basic problem, therefore, is to obtain a fair share of an enlarged world trade."
It was this concept that prevailed in the U.S. Senate, as an effective answer to the Taft proposal for engaging in commercial warfare by relying on American bargaining power against Britain, Russia and other countries.

A RACKET UNCOVERED

One of the most despicable sides of the racketeering game is that which seeks to take advantage of the returned soldier, to make away with his well earned service grants. Of course, the racketeer knows no compassion and batters on innocent acceptance of a salesman at his face value.
The speed with which these gentry have got busy on the returned man is nauseating.
They trade on the soldier's desire to get a house and home together, and have managed to make nice pickings for themselves.
Fortunately the law has caught up with some of them.

"People are fed up on the war; they want to forget it." These people have been forgetting it since it began.

Those psychiatrists who long ago took the position that Hitler
and his leaders were paranoiac, or had a tendency towards para-nolia, would seem to be getting support for this theory from the U.S. internment camp at Mondorf, Luxembourg, where some of the Fuehrer's chief henchmen are held.
The Nazi leaders in that camp,
and others who have been accounted for elsewhere, have in most cases displayed mental abnormality, although this column doesn't profess to label the type of abnormality.
One of the characteristics of the paranoiac is an exaggerated imagination. He thinks he is a superman; he is persecuted; he is right and everybody is against him.
In the final stages of his disease, they tell us, he may become dangerous—a killer. From his viewpoint he isn't a criminal,
but an inspired being who is righting the world.
Hitler exhibited these characteristics. If you trace his history back to the first Great War you find him suffering temporary blindness from hysteria.
In 1938 when I followed him about in the Chamberlain conferences at Berchtesgaden, Godesberg and Munich, and later into Sudetenland, he certainly was displaying strange complexes.
Now far be it from your columnist to try to give an expert appraisal of Hitler's mental condition during his evil dictatorship. We know that, paranoiac or not, he was one of the most powerful leaders of history. Still, the methods employed by this self-ordained divinity— wholesale massacres, attempts to exterminate races, enslavement of millions—all seem to fit the theory of paranoiac tendencies rather snugly.

the world if there were a great many more like them.

You can hardly expect people to be enthusiastic about coalition in the federal field when we remember that in the last 50 years
the Conservative Party has won only two elections and on both occasions by virtue of an alliance with the Nationalist forces in Quebec. We know what happened in 1911 when the Conservatives at the demand of this party had to abandon the Canadian navy program, and again in 1930 when the Dunning budget, which amounted to practically free trade with the Mother Country, had to be disallowed. Since this war started we have seen the Nationalist party in Quebec conduct two provincial campaigns on the issue that we should not have been in this war at Britain's side. Then there is, of course, a very wide cleavage between the two parties on their attitude to protective tariff, and when we remember all these things I think you should make it clear that your reference to no difference between the two parties refers only to activities in the provincial field.

THE BASIC RECIPE

2 cups sifted Swans Down Cake Flour
2 teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup shortening or butter
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup milk

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift together three times. Cream shortening, add sugar gradually, and cream together well. Add egg and beat very thoroughly. Add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla.

NOTE: To save sugar, substitute honey or corn syrup for half the sugar; use 1/2 cup sugar and 1/2 cup syrup or honey, and reduce milk by 3 tablespoons.

ing batter, add 1 tablespoon molasses, 3/4 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon mace and 1/4 cup chopped raisins; turn into cup-cake pans. Bake same as Chocolate Cup Cakes.

Cottage Pudding

Mix Wonder Cake, using only 3 tablespoons shortening; omit egg and increase milk to 1 cup. Bake in greased 8 x 8 x 2-inch pan in moderate oven (350°F.) for 50 to 60 minutes. Serve hot, with fruit sauce or chocolate sauce. (If you have a package of Baker's Cocoa in the house, you'll find a grand Chocolate Sauce recipe on the label.)

Orange Dessert Cake

Prepare Wonder Cake, adding 2 teaspoons grated orange rind to the shortening and omitting vanilla. Bake cake as directed, and cool 1/2 hour. Mix together 1/2 cup orange juice and 1/2 cup sugar, and spread on cake at intervals, 1 to 2 tablespoons at a time.

Layer, Square or Cup Cakes

1 Bake Wonder Cake in greased 8-inch layer pans in moderate oven (375°F.) for 20 to 25 minutes; or in greased 8 x 8 x 2-inch pan in moderate oven (350°F.) about 45 minutes. Or bake in greased cup-cake pans in moderate oven (375°F.) about 20 minutes... makes 2 dozen.

Self-Iced Cake

Bake in greased 8 x 8 x 2-inch pan in moderate oven (350°F.) about 45 minutes. Mix together 1/4 cup firmly packed brown sugar, 2 teaspoons Swans Down Cake Flour, 1/2 cup chopped nuts, 2 tablespoons melted butter and 1 tablespoon water. Spread on warm cake. Bake 5 minutes longer.

Spiced and Chocolate Cup-Cakes

5 Halve batter. To half, add 1 square Baker's Unsweetened Chocolate, melted; turn into greased cup-cake pans, and top with nuts.

6 Bake in moderate oven (375°F.) about 18 minutes. To remain-

"AN EMPIRE TEA THAT'S FIT FOR A KING!"

Two Million Items Of Clothing Packed For Captives of Japs

The most complete stock of women's and children's clothing assembled at any point in Canada is probably in the B.C. division warehouse of the Canadian Red Cross Society at Vancouver. Today the walls of the Marine Building basement bulge with clothing as Vancouver Red Cross workers assemble and pack 10,500 Far East civilian kits for women and children, civilian prisoners who are expected to be released from Jap prison camps.

These articles, which total some 2,000,000 items, are part of a huge order which the British Red Cross has requested for shipment to the Pacific area.

When the Canadian Red Cross was asked to do this work, the job was turned over to the Vancouver branch of the Red Cross, and for the past few weeks a picked group of women has been working seven days a week to complete the first 2,000 parcels.

Today these dark blue bags are all packed in their Red Cross cases. When they are next opened it will be to give some prison-weary woman or child a glimpse of life as they remembered it four long years ago.

Each dunage bag, with its Red Cross label, contains a complete outfit of some 20 articles that range from nightwear to shoes. Heavy coats, warm underwear, attractive dresses, skirts and sweaters. It will clothe them completely, and even supply a change of underwear.

STUDY SIZES

The 2,000 parcels already completed are just a drop in the bucket, for there are still another 8,000 to go. Included in this order is clothing for 7,200 women and girls, 800 boys, 12 to 17; 2,500 parcels for children from 1 to 10. The latter were made up 75 per cent for boys and 25 per cent for girls, since the latter can wear boys' clothing.

Approximate sizes have been studied so that when the parcels are opened the clothing will fit the wearer. There may be some swapping, but as nearly as possible each parcel has been individually packed.

In a week or so, these first 2,000 cases will start on their long journey, conveyed through the American Red Cross as their part in this International Red Cross gesture. Taken to a strategic point in the Pacific, they will be ready when the Allies break through to concentration camps.

Into each parcel, stressing the international note of the Red Cross, go a little card, "With Best Wishes from the British, American, Netherlands and Canadian Red Cross Societies," all of whom donated to this effort.

Young Contributor — Donald West, son of Mr. and Mrs. George West of Vesuvius Bay, Salt Spring Island, has turned in $22 to the Red Cross. This last amount makes a total of $116 he has raised this year by selling flowers grown in his own garden.

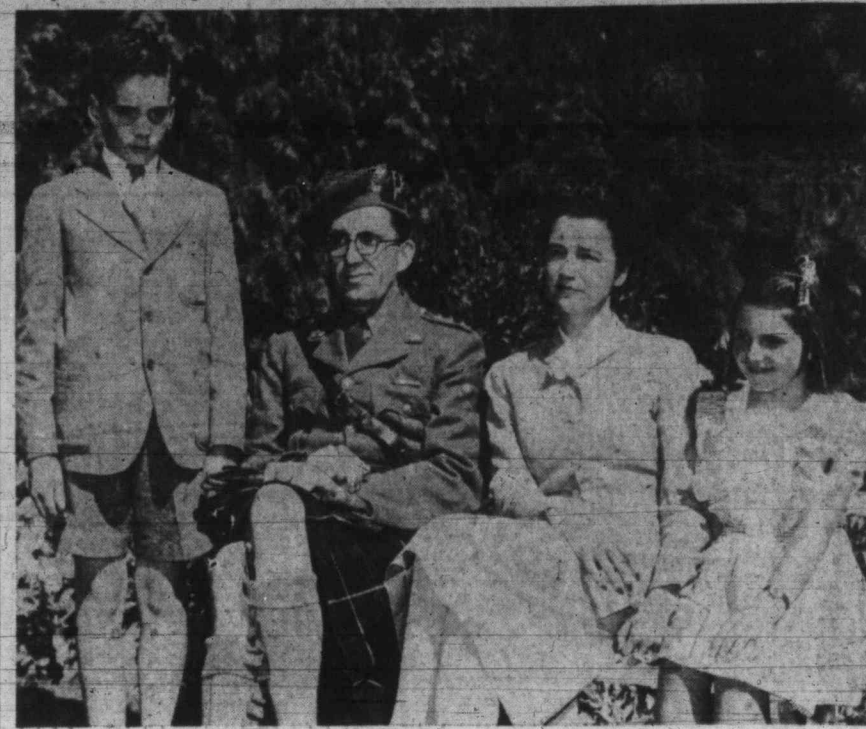

Magistrate H. C. Hall said today that he wished to avoid a misapprehension which might arise out of a remark made in giving judgment in a dangerous driving case Saturday. It should be noted that cutting corners is contrary to law, and may be very dangerous, he said. In the case at bar he was not convinced that the corner had been cut, and believed the real cause of the accident was a mechanical failure of the brakes.

Victoria Cwac Proud Of Fellow Drivers

Lt. Col. Unamie Shakespeare, C.W.A.C., who arrived in Victoria this morning from overseas to spend leave with her sister, Mrs. A. J. Patton, 1154 Old Esquimaux Road, has a lot of faith in the driving ability of her sex.

A granddaughter of Noah Shakespeare, one-time mayor and former postmaster of Victoria, she was overseas two and a half years; drove an army transport, and later dispatching for the Army Service Corps.

"They drove those big vehicles around the London blackout," she said with pride. "There are 42 girls in my group and I think they were more careful than the men."

London taxicabs, she thinks, are terrible.

"Why, they won't give an inch. They turn in the middle of the road without a signal and they can turn on a dime."

"We always had to watch out for them."

Ganges Fete Realizes $301 for Church W.A.

Sensitive Soldier Avoids Royal Visit

CLIVEDEN, Eng. (CP) — Sensitive about his disfiguring face wound, a Canadian soldier declined to see the Queen when she visited the Canadian Military Hospital here, Lady Astor revealed while entertaining members of the House of Commons staff.

Showing the party around historic Cliveden, Lady Astor pointed to a framed portrait of the soldier in the drawing room, hanging beside portraits of the King and Queen.

"The boy's name," said Lady Astor, "was James. One day when the Queen visited the hospital he was so sensitive about his appearance he locked himself in a bathroom and refused to be presented to her."

"Despite efforts of a lady-in-waiting who tried to make the soldier realize the Queen would understand, he would not come out. He continually replied: 'I can't see Her Majesty like this.'"

The Queen later sent a letter to the soldier enclosing a photograph of herself.

Takes Over Esquimalt Command Today

Capt. C. D. Donald, new N.O.I.C. at Esquimalt with his wife, the former Phyllis Henderson, and their 18-month-old daughter, Joan, arrived in Victoria Monday from Shelburne, N.S. Capt. Donald who assumes command today, succeeding Capt. Barry German, is a former Chemainus man with a long career in the Royal Canadian Navy. He served aboard the destroyers Ottawa and Annapolis as commanding officer and was organizer of the Fishermen's Reserve early in 1939 at Esquimalt. His 17-year-old son, Peter, attends Brentwood College. Before coming to Esquimalt nearly two years ago as N.O.I.C., Capt. German held a similar appointment at Gaspe during the submarine menace in the St. Lawrence. With Mrs. German he left today for Ottawa on the way to London, England, where he will take up an appointment with the Canadian Naval Mission Overseas.

Dorothy Dix

Dear Dorothy Dix: My husband and I have been very happily married for several years and I love him very much. He has some of the finest qualities a man can possess. He is very romantic and devoted to me, never gives me any worry about other women, is generous with money and is a good provider. But he has two faults that are ruining our marriage.

One is that he is a procrastinator. I can give him a list of things to do and he returns home with nothing but excuses. He is so careless he never makes an entry in his bank book and consequently never knows how much he has on deposit. And he is a scatterer. After he has been home on Sunday the house looks as if a cyclone had hit it.

What can I do to change him and make our marriage a success?

Answer: Well, I should think that any woman who had a husband who was a romantic lover and a good provider would be so busy being down on her knees thanking God for her luck that she wouldn't notice that he had strewn the paper all over the house and had forgotten to bring home a loaf of bread.

My advice to you is to quit nagging him about his little weaknesses before he rebels and hunts up some woman who won't expect him to do the shopping and who will keep his time schedule for him.

Eating Too Much? Exercising Too Little?

Most People Do and Pay the Penalty!
Many who feel "under the weather" are often guilty of overeating, especially rich, fatty foods. This often leads to a system overloaded with toxic waste, a dull, tired feeling and eventual overweight.
A favorite British method of keeping fit and trim despite rich, heavy food is to take Bile Beans nightly. These small all-vegetable pills are so gentle they are called "The Medicine That Wakes Up Nature". Most people eat too heavily, exercise too little, so get BILE BEANS from your druggist and resolve to keep fit and youthfully active.

Await Official Word On Housing Scheme

Victoria Housing Ltd., a company being incorporated under the National Housing Act by local contractors, is still waiting word from F. W. Nicolls, national housing administrator, to go ahead with building homes for veterans in Victoria, Ald. Ed. Williams said today.

Mr. Nicolls approved the setting up of the company when he was in Victoria two weeks ago, and was to get confirmation on his return to Ottawa so that the work could go ahead, Ald. Williams said. However, to date no word of any kind has been received and the local contractors are waiting. Under the scheme the company, formed by V. L. Leigh, Luney Bros. Ltd., George Wheaton and Williams, Trerise and Williams Ltd., would buy lots in the city, build homes of an approved construction to be sold to veterans or their dependents. The Dominion government would advance 90 per cent of the cost and the local contractors the other 10 per cent, and material priorities will be given for the building of the homes.

Ald. Williams said the contractors are prepared to go ahead and start building as soon as the final approval of the scheme comes through from Ottawa, and as men and materials are available.

Registrations Close For Second 'Y' Camp

Registrations closed Monday for second Y.M.C.A. camp for boys at Thunderbird, Glintz Lake, to begin Thursday. All boys going to the camp must be at the "Y" building Wednesday night at 7 for medical examination. Baggage must be at the Y.M.C.A. same night.
The bus to the camp, which lasts from Aug. 2 to 16, will leave Vancouver Island Coach Lines depot at 1:30 Thursday afternoon. Boys from the first camp will be in at the depot Tuesday afternoon at 3:15.

ATLAS THEATRE

A dream of glory shared by two youngsters—a dream that becomes a reality—is unfolded in deeply absorbing human terms in a fascinating picture that has been held over at the Atlas Theatre.

The film is "National Velvet," which relates the story, based on Enid Bagnold's best-seller novel, of an ex-jockey who becomes the trainer of an unwanted horse owned by a 12-year-old girl. Their great dream is to win the Grand National at Aintree, England—the most famous, most gruelling race of them all.

How they do it makes for solid entertainment, for laughter and for tears, for joy and near-tragedy.

YORK THEATRE

Susan Hayward was occupied with more than acting on the Jules Levey set during filming "The Hairy Ape." One day, William Bendix, her co-star, swung his shovel furiously in a scene and caught Tom Fadden with the blow.

Fadden went sailing across a mound of coal. He was jarred generally and suffered a badly-tut hand.

The first-aid man on the set was off that day, but, luckily, Susan had been taking a first-aid course and she stepped in to clean and bandage the injured actor's hand.

"The Hairy Ape," a United Artists' release, is currently being shown at the York Theatre.

CAPITOL THEATRE

The most inclusive title yet given out by members of Uncle Sam's forces in the "girl-we'd-most-like-to" series goes to Merle Oberon.

While co-starring with Paul Muni in Columbia's technicolor "A Song to Remember," current hit at the Capitol Theatre, the star received a letter from American soldiers stationed in Tasmania, her birthplace, which indicated that they had voted her the "girl they'd most like to be under the Southern Cross with."

Since the Southern Cross is visible from almost the entire southern hemisphere, this seems to be a first of some consequence.

The star's studio is trying to figure whether this means the boys prefer to be with the lady in all parts of the southern hemisphere or whether more boys in the southern hemisphere than in the northern prefer her company.

Decision at the moment seems to be to leave it to the boys.

OAK BAY & PLAZA THEATRES

George Formby sings a number of outstanding new songs, accompanying himself on the ukulele, in his new Columbia comedy, "Much Too Shy," currently at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres. These include three grand comedy numbers, "I'm Delivering the Morning Milk," "Handy Andy," and "They Laughed When I Started to Play." George also sings a haunting melody, "Talking To the Moon About You." Experts say they are the finest numbers ever heard in a Formby film.

CADET THEATRE

Money troubles are the base of all the hilarious fun in RKO Radio's newest comedy tune film, "Step Lively," now at the Cadet Theatre. Frank Sinatra, George Murphy, Adolphe Menjou, Gloria De Haven, Walter Slezak and Eugene Palette have the stellar roles in the picture, which revolves about the frantic efforts of a Broadway impresario to launch a musical show.

RIO THEATRE

An unusual film, based on legends of the werewolf, now at the Rio Theatre entitled "The Undying Monster." A mystery thriller, it tells of the creature that turns from human to savage beast, prowling the countryside. Heather Angel is featured in

DOMINION THEATRE

"Necessity is the mother of invention" and the three hairdressers signed to M.G.M.'s "Keep Your Powder Dry," the film starring Lana Turner, Laraine Day and Susan Peters which is currently at the Dominion Theatre, found an army necessity a true test of ingenuity. Elected the task of keeping the hair off the collar of each member of the cast, to conform with the army regulation, the hairdressers affirmed this to be their busiest assignment.

According to Lieut. Louise White, army technical adviser for the film, Wacs are given "gigs" when hair-dos, which do not conform, touch the collar. When a Wac gets five gigs, she is reprimanded and assigned extra duties.

"Everything being strictly G.I. on this set, we shall start giving gigs to hairdressers if a star-ey players hair-do is too low," said Director Eddie Buzzell. "At the end of the picture, the one who has the most gigs must create a special hairdress for each one of the cast."

Grandma knows a good dish when she sees it and this is one of her favourites. Nourishing, thrifty and flavourful. Like many a tempting recipe, it calls for Libby's Prepared Mustard. That tangy condiment that makes good food taste better.

HAMBURG AND DUMPLING STEW:

1 1/2 pounds ground beef
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup Libby's Prepared Mustard
1 small onion, minced
1 tablespoon Libby's Prepared Mustard
2 cups sifted flour
1 cup Libby's Tomato Soup
2 cups hot water
3 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 cup milk

Mix beef, salt, pepper, onion and mustard, and shape into small cakes. Brown on both sides in the fat. Lift out meat cakes. Blend 1 tablespoon flour with fat. Add tomato soup, 1/2 teaspoon salt and hot water. Replace cakes and bring to boil. Sift remaining flour with baking powder and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Add milk gradually, beating until smooth. Drop mixture by spoonfuls on top of boiling hamburger mixture. Cover closely and steam for 15 minutes. Serve at once. Serves 5 or 6.

THE BAND. Screw band over lid for tight seal, and can in approved manner. Leave jar upright, over night.

Next day remove bands. They have now served their purpose. Save them for use again. You will need as many lids as you use in a day's canning.

And test for B-I-N-G! Tap each lid. If it sounds B-I-N-G, jar is OK. A dull P-U-C-K sound means, better re-can in a fresh, unblemished jar.

Council Approves Wartime House Plan For 300 New Homes

Determined to have houses for returning servicemen and their families, Victoria City Council at a four-hour meeting Monday afternoon unanimously agreed to apply to Wartime Housing Limited for 300 veterans' houses with 150 to be started immediately.

Motion was made by Alderman T. W. C. Hawkins, chairman of the Housing Committee, and the Lands and Housing Committees, were asked to pick out the needed lots as soon as possible.

James Gray, Wartime Housing official who has travelled from Halifax to Victoria in the past 11 weeks, spoke of the serious housing situation on the coast and offered council the 300 houses.

Priorities in material will be given, he said, adding that material was already rolling to Vancouver for the first of the 1,200 houses applied for there last week. Such material coming this way would ease the situation of the unfinished houses under private construction in the community, he said.

"These houses will cost approximately $3,800 each and will be structurally sound," Mr. Gray said and emphasized: "Veterans' houses are not to be confused with the houses built by Wartime Housing for war workers in the area."

"Veterans' houses are permanent houses and are going to be a credit to the community. Wartime workers' houses are not to be considered in the same class. Rental, however, will be the same as for the wartime workers' houses—$22, $27.50 and $30 per month."

Mayor Percy George was informed by Mr. Gray that the houses would not be sold to veterans or others but could be bought by the city for $1,000 each in about 10 years time. The land from the city would be a lease, not a gift, he added.

"Nothing has been done in six weeks on the 50 houses the city already applied for," Alderman F. A. Willis commented. "The mayor and city council are getting kicked around by the public because nothing has been done to provide housing accommodation."

John Y. McCarter, western supervising architect for Wartime Housing, stated that one mill on the island had been shut down for three months. This mill could handle about 50,000 feet of lumber a day. He suggested logs could be obtained for the mill.

In outlining the type of house the city would get, Mr. Gray said they would be four, five and six-room houses with concrete foundations and brick chimneys. There would be no basement, he said, but added that the houses could be jacked up and basements put in at a later date.

Robert Knight of the Canadian Legion; Forrest L. Shaw, chairman of the Citizens' Rehabilitation Council, and D. K. Kennedy, Emergency Shelter Administrator, spoke briefly on the housing situation here and stressed the need for veterans' homes.

Park Facilities In Victoria Scored

Recreational facilities offered tourists at Stanley Park in Vancouver compared with those offered at parks in Victoria were outlined by W. E. G. Crisford, in a letter read at City Council meeting Monday.

The letter was referred to the parks committee for a report.

"There are approximately 20 tennis courts in Stanley Park, a good sized putting green, a miniature golf course and two open-air bathing beaches which had been converted into swimming pools, for the convenience and protection of juveniles and fine natural bathing beaches for all and sundry."

"In contradistinction to this, our policy in Victoria seems to be to spend considerable sums on publicity to attract tourists. Yet when they arrive here, there is little or nothing in the way of recreational facilities provided for them."

"May I submit that this policy is now due for revision, that is to spend less on publicity and more on providing facilities in our public parks and beaches."

He mentioned several projects which he felt would not only beautify the city and provide entertainment for tourists, but would mean employment for returned men.

Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities have written M. F. Hunter, city clerk, asking for the latest data pertaining to Victoria, to aid in the setting up of certain statistical records for the public relations department of the federation.

To Fight in Pacific War

Another Victoria man going to the Pacific is Sgt. Gordon Ingleton, R.C.E.M.E., who came home from Europe Monday, to be welcomed by his mother, Mrs. F. Ingleton, 2020 Marion Street. He went to France three days after the invasion and fought through the western front actions to Germany.

Council Endorses Amendment On Full-Day Store Closure

Right of labor to a five-day week was discussed at Monday's meeting of the City Council when aldermen endorsed a resolution to be presented to the forthcoming convention of the Union of B.C. Municipalities, asking for an amendment to the "Shops Regulation and Weekly Half-holiday Act."

The act provides that any Municipal Council may by by-law require any class or classes of shops to close on certain specified times throughout the year, but not earlier than 12 o'clock noon except on statutory legal holidays.

Mayor Percy E. George, recommending the resolution, said that certain classes of shops desired to close one full day each week throughout the year. It was resolved that the B.C. government be asked to pass legislation whereby any municipal council would have power to pass a by-law requiring shops to close for one full day each week upon an application signed by the required number of shop owners.

He had the resolution prepared at the request of an official of the Barbers' Union. A similar resolution was received from the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council.

"We are coming to a five-day week. Why isn't the store clerk entitled to it the same as those in the building and printing trades?" Ald. F. A. Willis asked.

A by-law to provide for the closing of shops for the sale of gasoline and motor crankcase oil on statutory legal holidays within the city of Victoria was introduced.

INCOME TAX OFFICE

The following notice of motion of Ald. Willis was approved by council: "That the City Council strongly urge the establishment of a divisional office of the Income Tax Department in the city of Victoria with jurisdiction over Vancouver Island to meet the increased needs and convenience of the taxpayers of this district."

A study will be made to determine what action can be taken with regards to alleged mistreatment of ponies. A grant of $100 was made by the city council to the Victoria Baseball Association for its work in promoting minor baseball in the city.

In Esquimalt Court

AB. Earl Dunn, R.C.N.V.R., in Esquimalt police court Monday, was remanded to Aug. 6 by Magistrate H. C. Hall on a charge of breaking and entering with intent to commit theft. The magistrate suggested the rating secure counsel to argue a point of law as to whether or not the intent to steal was shown by the evidence.

Evidence was given that a sailor, in company with two others, was seen breaking a window of the Dew Drop Inn at about 2:45 in the morning of July 21, and that Dunn had been found lying on the kitchen floor of the inn shortly after by city police. Witnesses said nothing had been stolen.

Dunn, in his defence, said he had just returned from overseas, and he had been celebrating the event, something they had promised themselves for a long time. He had quite a little to drink, he said, and remembered nothing about the incident.

Streetcar Damaged

Considerable damage was done to a No. 6 streetcar operated by Ted Sparshatt when it was in collision with the rear of a truck owned by Sanka Singh, 2650 Prior Street, outside the Rio Theatre, Government Street, Monday. City police report the truck, driven by W. C. Drader, 17, 471 Bolespine Road, was double parked at the time.

Council Reopens Bus Transportation Discussion Today

Signatures of more than 2,000 residents of the Fairfield and Gonzales districts on a petition protesting recommendation of the City Council's transportation committee on a proposed bus route and requesting that the matter be reopened, led City Council at its meeting Monday, to refer the transportation question to a meeting of the council in committee of the whole, today.

Alderman T. W. C. Hawkins, chairman of the transportation committee, was the sole dissenting voice to an amendment made to his motion by Alderman Ed. Williams.

"Your committee recommends that in view of the acceptance of the proposals of the B.C. Electric Railway Co. and which are now before the Public Utilities Commission, the question be not reopened, and the Veterans' Sightseeing and Transportation Company be so advised," Alderman Hawkins said.

Following the reading of a letter from Harvey and Twining, barristers and solicitors for the above company, and receiving the petition signed by more than 2,000 people, aldermen felt that they should hear a delegation of petitioners.

"I don't think this council can ignore petitions of 2,000 people from one district; there is apparent dissatisfaction and we have no right to ignore these people," Ald. F. A. Willis stated.

Ald. Hawkins said that the Veterans' Sightseeing and Transportation Company, operating the Blue Line Transit had canvassed "practically every house in the district" to obtain signatures to the petition. People were quite satisfied with the altered route proposed by the B.C. Electric, he said.

"It will only be a short time before the whole franchise question is studied; this is just a temporary urged acceptance of the transportation committee's recommendation."

Several letters protesting the committee's action and stating their preference for the bus service proposed by the Blue Line Transit Company, were read at the meeting.

Council agreed that D. K. Kennedy, city building inspector, be left on loan to the Emergency Shelter Administration for the months of August and September.

Sale of city lots approved amounted to $4,072.

Sea Cadets Leave For Summer Camp

Mustering at the Parliament Buildings at 12:30 Sunday, 79 cadets and five officers of the Rainbow Sea Cadet Corps marched to the Vancouver boat for their summer camp at Whytecliffe Park.

Lieut. Comdr. T. W. Tribe, R.C.S.C., commanding officer of the corps, was in charge. Executive officer was Lieut. R. P. Kingscote, R.C.S.C.

The two-weeks' camp is for all Island Sea Cadets and will last until Aug. 11.

Boys from the Comox-Courtenay and Nanaimo units boarded the corvette H.M.C.S. Nanaimo, which was at Courtenay Sunday morning at 8 and then proceeded to Nanaimo where it picked up the corps there at 1 in the afternoon. The Nanaimo sailed direct to the camp, which is approximately 18 miles north of Vancouver, and the boys pulled ashore in cutters in regular navy fashion.

Commander of the Courtenay-Comox group was Lieut. John Nichol, R.C.S.C., and the Nanaimo corps was commanded by Lieut. T. Bennett, R.C.S.C.

No vehicles weighing more than three tons will be allowed over Pipers Line and Healey bridges on Healey Road, and the speed limit is 10 miles an hour, the Department of Public Works announces.

Labor Protests Industry Check Suggested Here

Suggestion that Victoria should be kept a residential area and industry should be restricted, drew a unanimous protest from a meeting of the Vancouver Island Joint Labor Conference Sunday night.

Members stated that no privileged class should enjoy the advantages of this area. Any move by individuals or groups to stop industrial expansion should be blocked by all public-minded citizens here, they continued.

Delegates gave unanimous assent to a motion that a congratulatory letter be sent the secretary of the British Labor Party on the "smashing victory" the party gained in the recent election.

Lack of adequate housing facilities and question of compulsory billeting in this area, occupied much of the meeting time following reports from R. F. Williams, Sam Evans and G. R. Wilkinson on the Citizens' Rehabilitation Council and the Joint Veteran-Labor Consultative Council. The conference pledged full support to any move made to bring public pressure to bear on the housing question. If no move was made the conference should take the initiative, delegates decided.

Delegate W. B. White, speaking on the amalgamation question, urged all delegates "to do all in their power to see that every effort is made to speed the amalgamation of Victoria and the adjoining municipalities. In discussing the value of amalgamation to workers in the area, Mr. White spoke of the unification of essential services as the main feature from the workers' point of view."

The present committee which has been active on the question under chairmanship of Charles Chivers, was commended. Following is the civic election committee struck at the meeting for the civic elections in Victoria in December of this year: Robert Mezger, C. W. Marshall, Geo. A. Wilkinson, Robert F. Williams, Alex. Mitchell, Herbert Rowland and Richard Jones.

H. J. Maguire Takes Over Winnipeg Baggage Post

Effective today, H. J. Maguire, general mail and baggage agent Canadian Pacific Railway, Vancouver, will assume the position of acting mail and baggage agent for the company at Winnipeg. It is announced by W. E. Allison, Montreal, manager, mail and baggage traffic for the C.P.R. Mr. Maguire will continue with his own duties at Vancouver while taking on the work at Winnipeg formerly administered by the late George W. Carter, whose death occurred suddenly July 4.

Builders Respond To Offer of Aid In Veterans' Houses

OTTAWA (CP) — National Housing Administration officials said Monday they have had "very good" response to the government's offer to assist builders with the construction of low cost homes for veterans and their dependents.

The government's proposals were outlined in a circular sent to builders earlier this month. The circular said that builders who started housing developments would be assisted in obtaining labor and materials and the Dominion would share certain financing risks.

The builders of such integrated housing developments would enter into agreements with the Dominion, under which the government would guarantee to take over houses left unsold after a certain period.

A builder or group of builders would develop a substantial area of land as a housing program, receiving loans to finance the work through an approved lending institution under the National Housing Act provisions. The full amount of the loan would be advanced to the builder as the work progresses, the builder being treated in the same way as an owner building for occupancy.

SMALL PROJECTS

The builder would offer the houses for sale at prices not in excess of the lending value plus additional amounts of $350 for a two-bedroom house; $425 for three bedrooms; $500 for four bedrooms and as ascending scale on the same basis for larger buildings.

The builder would restrict the sale of each house to members or ex-members of the forces or their dependents until they were reasonably ready for occupancy. If required by the minister, the builder would continue to advertise a house for sale after the period of restricted sale to members or ex-members of the forces and continue to give preference to such persons if they desired to purchase.

The government would agree to purchase from the builder within one year of completion, at the lending value, any house remaining unsold.

Jail Governor, 2 Others Fired

TORONTO (CP) — Three officials of the Waterloo County jail will be discharged as the result of a break from the building by Ulysses Lauzon and Joseph Peltier July 19, it was announced Monday by Provincial Secretary George Dunbar.

"We have decided after reading a report on the investigation into the jailbreak to dispense with the services of Governor E. G. Langridge, Chief Turnkey J. Strub and Night Watchman William Chivers," Mr. Dunbar said.

He said the three had been found guilty of "gross carelessness in the performance of duty." Lauzon and Peltier, both of Windsor, Ont., made their escape while held on charges of robbing a bank at Ayr, Ont., of $75,000. Both are still at large.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The California Horse Racing Board Monday tentatively granted Santa Anita race track a 55-day meeting starting Dec. 29 and ending March 16.

The board withheld final approval of dates, including five days for charity, pending a meeting.

Toughest of Nazis Waiting for Trial 'Going to Pieces'

By GEORGE TUCKER

MONDORF, Luxembourg (AP) — Top Nazis and even some of the supposed iron men who built and bossed the German military machine are going to pieces morally and physically as they wait behind barbed wire for their war crimes trials.

Records kept by the army since this interrogation centre was opened May 13 told today of the strange effect of fear and confinement on the survivors of the German clique that once ruled Europe.

The records showed that Hermann Goering never has recovered fully from the shock of fear of death he showed when first brought here.

Robert Ley, one-time overlord of German workmen, has shown a marked physical and moral disintegration and has only one friend among the dozens of German leaders here — Julius Streicher, Adolf Hitler's No. 1 Jew-baiter.

VIEWERS CHANGED

Streicher, who now professes to have decided that Jews should be allowed to live unmolested, wanders around disconsolately in Ley's company, the picture of a broken man.

The deterioration is apparent even in some of the general officers who planned and helped execute the most ruthless war in history. They accepted defeat on the battlefield, but when the symbols of their power—their batons—were taken away, they went to pieces.

Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel wrote Gen. Eisenhower to protest the confiscation of his marshal's baton. Adm. Doenitz, who succeeded Hitler as fuhrer, resented being photographed with a black number across his shirt front, and wrote to Eisenhower to tell him so.

Commenting on the Germans' attitude, Sgt. Robert Book of Milwaukee, Wis., assistant in the liaison office here, said:

"They looked good while they were winning, but here behind the wire with their authority and their fancy uniforms gone, they are a pretty sorry lot. They are scared to death."

JAVA FOLK EAT ALTAR FOOD AFTER SPIRITS HAVE TIME TO SMELL IT

Java is in the Torrid Zone, not far south of the Equator. This fact might lead us to expect a hot climate, but the hills and mountains do a great deal to give the people a good place to live. The higher you live on a mountain slope, the less heat you have on the average.

We might also expect heavy rainfall on Java, and if you expect that you surely will be right. Thunder roars and rain pours down almost any day. Some parts have more than 300 inches of rainfall a year! That is close to an inch a day, and an inch of rainfall in a day is a great deal.

Java craftsman at work on metal bowl.

The fine supply of rainfall is a help in bringing good crops. Along with the rich soil and the industry of the people, it makes Java one of the great food-producing islands of the world.

The people of Java eat rice as a staple. It is as important to them as wheat is to us, perhaps even more important.

When the rice harvest starts, picnics and feasts are held. Small altars are set up in the fields, and offerings are placed on them in honor of the rice goddess, and for the guardian spirits of the farming villages.

The offerings are chiefly in the form of food, and include cooked rice, eggs and fruit. After the food is left on the altar for a while, perhaps to be smelled by the spirits, it is eaten by the persons who placed it there. In that way the Java folk suppose that they will gain the good will of heavenly beings, and at the same time can enjoy a meal for themselves.

are followed, most of the people on the island call themselves Mohammedans. Those who obey the rules of their religion face toward Mecca five times a day, and offer prayers.

Another Mohammedan rule is that the flesh of the pig must never be eaten. Pork is popular in China, but in Java you seldom will see a native take a bite of it. Only a few cities in Java have more than 100,000 population. Largest of all is Batavia, the capital, which is the home of close to 500,000 persons.

The DOCTOR Says:

ADVANCED RICKETS CAUSES DEFORMITY IN CHILDREN

By WILLIAM A. O'BRIEN, M.D.

Rickets, a disease of growing children, is the only disorder prevented or cured by sunlight. Many claims have been made for the specific use of sunlight in the prevention and treatment of other diseases, but none have been substantiated. Earliest signs of rickets in an infant are restlessness, irritability and head sweating. Baby may be pale and overweight. Examination shows changes in the bones, most marked at the places where cartilage and hard bone join together. Knobs of imperfect bone development can be felt at the wrist and over the chest along each side of the breast bone. This row of "beads" is sometimes called the "rachitic rosary."

In advanced rickets, the head is square, the wrists are large, the chest is deformed, and the abdomen is large and pendulous. Rickets causes bowing or knock-knees and loose ligaments. Unless the condition is corrected the child will grow up a deformed adult.

In average rickets the disease is usually mild and marked deformities are not present. Although rickets is a disease of the growing period of life, it is more apt to develop in the first and second years as growth is more rapid at this time. Well-nourished children are also susceptible to rickets because of their more rapid growth. As boys do not attain their full growth until 18 to 21 years of age, and girls grow to 16 or 19, sunlight is a must for young people.

BE MODERATE

What is the effect of sunlight on the body? Investigators tell us that its chief action is on the bone, where it helps the body to take the calcium and phosphorus from the diet and build it into strong bone. The ultra-violet rays do this for us. The red and infra-red rays produce heat and cause body relaxation.

Certain skin disorders are favorably affected by sunlight; notably acne or common pimples, and psoriasis. Although sunlight does not cure either one, both seem to improve after exposure to moderate doses. Sunlight is used in the treatment of tuberculosis of bones and joints, but with the decline of these forms of tuberculosis from the use of safer milk supplies there are fewer patients with this kind of tuberculosis to treat in recent years. Excessive exposure to the sun may be harmful to patients with tuberculosis of the lungs.

This is the time of year for all of us to get our sun. Light rays have the greatest effect when there is no obstruction to their passage. Even ordinary window panes filter out ultra-violet light. Rays must penetrate the skin if they are to be effective. Dark-skinned people and those who tan easily do not get as much effect from the sun's rays as light-skinned persons and those who burn.

Sciatic Pain Hasn't Bothered Me For Four Years

As he is getting on toward middle age, this man is especially grateful for the way in which Kruschen helped him with his sciatic pain. Here's what he says:

"At one time I suffered for months with sciatic and rheumatic pains and had to use a cane when I walked. But after taking Kruschen for awhile, I could manage without the cane. That was four years ago and since then I have had no return of the complaint nor have I lost a day's work. I shall never be without Kruschen and can honestly recommend it to anyone who suffers as I did." —Mr. C. F.

Kruschen... the saline treatment... offers relief in many cases of sciatic pain, because its action is to help remove underlying causes. And one of the underlying causes of pain and ill-health is the accumulation of harmful waste matter in your system. Kruschen aids your organs of elimination and thereby brings about improvement. Thousands of persons bothered with sciatic and rheumatic pains have benefited by taking Kruschen; and that is a very good reason why you should try Kruschen yourself. Your nearest drug store has Kruschen Salts in two sizes: 25c. and 75c.

Mammie McAllister, 15-year-old winner of the Auckland Cup for the most outstanding competitor of the day at the Scottish Games in Macdonald Park Saturday, is a Victoria girl who began dancing when she was six and has been winning awards ever since. Former pupil of Adeline Duncan, Mammie won the aggregate at the games for under eight at the age of seven, for under 10 at the age of nine, for under 13 when she was 12, and this year walked away with the George MacBeth Challenge Cup for under 16 class. Other cups she won Saturday are the G. Spence Matthews Challenge Cup for the Reel of Tulloch for Vancouver Island girls under the age of 16 and the William Anderson Trophy, Vancouver Island championship for senior amateur dancing. A Mount View High School student, Mammie is at present an instructor at the Gorge Playground for the summer. In addition to winning more than 100 medals for dancing, she also plays the bagpipes and has three or four medals for her skill in that art. She is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. T. H. McAllister, 3147 Qu-Apelle Street.

Building Up Fund of $3,000 To Entertain British Sailors

After nearly six years of sea warfare AB. Herbert Brown, R.N., is in Victoria on his way to the Pacific campaign to take a crack at the Japs. He came last week with other Royal Navy men now awaiting appointments from Esquimalt.

AB. Brown had his first taste of action in the English Channel in 1939 when the minesweeper in which he served was torpedoed. Rescued from the Channel by another sweeper, he spent a few weeks in England before posting to an aircraft carrier.

Aboard the flatboat he went to the Mediterranean and stayed with her until she was damaged on the Malta run. The carrier limped to port and AB. Brown spent a few days in Alexandria before going to a destroyer. Then came the siege of Tobruk and the destroyer went to the bottom of the Mediterranean.

This time AB. Brown spent his survivor's leave in England. Then he joined another destroyer bound for the waters near Madagascar. She never reached her destination for she ran into a mine off South Africa, and as she was being towed back to a west African port a Nazi torpedo sent her down.

"This time AB. Brown returned to service in coastal forces off England. Then came his draft for the Pacific war.

"He's just one of the British tars who helped keep the seas lanes open in the last six years," say Royal Navy officers.

"His story could be duplicated hundreds of times," they add.

AB. Brown's service record is typical, too, of that of the Royal Navy ratings whom Victorians are learning to recognize on the streets by the H.M.S. insignia on their cap bands.

It is for these men that the Citizens' War Services Committee is opening a fund to be administered by Lt.-Cmdr. Hew Paterson, J. V. Johnson and chairman of the Y.M.C.A., Prince Robert House, Sally Ann Hostel and Knights of Columbus hut.

Lower pay. Their objective is $3,000 with which to help entertain the British sailors whose rate of pay is but a fraction of that received by the Canadian navy men with whom they share barracks.

Present plans call for allotting a percentage of the fund to hotels so that free meals may be served there to the Royal Navy men. Theaters and transportation systems would receive a share so they could provide the sailors with tickets at reduced prices. Members of the committee hope to take them on picnics during the summer months providing transportation to and from the city.

Many of the Royal Navy men have received about $20 a month or less than $1 a day. Citizens' War Services point out that even a streetcar ride to the city and back makes a considerable dent in a day's pay.

Victorians wishing to contribute to the fund should send their cheques to Capt. Norman Foster, executive secretary, Citizens' War Services Committee, Chamber of Commerce.

Feature of last week's playground activities at Beacon Hill was an all girl charm class Friday morning. In the afternoon, "Blue Beard" was presented by Mrs. V. DiCastri and her drama group.

A dramatization of the story of Joseph, led by Miss Dorothy Davies, was presented Thursday morning. Miss Ursula Pottinger and Miss Mary Hummel instructed in folk dancing in the afternoon and stories were told to the younger boys and girls by Mrs. F. Davidson. Miss V. Meyers took weaving with the older girls.

A model airplane workshop for the boys was held Friday afternoon. Mrs. R. Patenaude led in the paper work and Bob Mines assisted with tumbling.

Tuesday morning 170 girls were instructed in swimming at the Crystal Pool by Fred Ellison. In the afternoon the story of Joseph was told, and Miss M. Carter had a group of children drawing pictures.

Other unusual events were the simple dramatization of nursery rhymes led by Mrs. V. DiCastri, first lesson to the girls in the basic tap steps by Miss Bonnie Dymond and instruction in card sewing for the children under eight by Miss V. Meyers.

D.S.O. Citation For Lt.-Col. Lendrum

Citation for Lt.-Col. Richard M. Lendrum's recently announced Distinguished Service Order award; was released today by the Defence Department at Ottawa.

Col. Lendrum commanded the Royal Regiment of Canada in a flanking operation in early April through Amn and Rolde. Despite this manoeuvre through enemy-held ground, Col. Lendrum's forces arrived at the objective on time and carried on operation despite failure of wireless communications. The success of the operation exceeded all expectations. Two bridges were seized intact with heavy enemy losses.

Citation reads: "This superbly executed manoeuvre prevented any enemy escape and resulted in the capture of the entire enemy force of approximately 600 men."

"Lt.-Col. Lendrum positioned himself well forward and from Rolde onward was exposed to enemy sniping, bazooka and automatic weapon fire. With no consideration for his own safety this gallant commander directed every phase of the operation so coolly and competently that his entire force was infused with his infectious confidence."

Col. Lendrum left his post as teacher at Duncan High School for active service at the outbreak of war. He went overseas as a captain in 1941 and in 1943 won his majority. He landed with the Scottish on D-Day and was with them until posted to command the Royal Regiment last year. Col. Lendrum, 34, was educated at Victoria High School, Victoria College and University of British Columbia. His wife, the former Anne Staples of Duncan, is a C.W.A.C. lieutenant.

Sanich Fire Department responded to a false alarm at 2:20 Monday afternoon. Outbreak, which covered several acres, was on San Juan Avenue near the Sanich water tank.

LOWER PAY

Their objective is $3,000 with which to help entertain the British sailors whose rate of pay is but a fraction of that received by the Canadian navy men with whom they share barracks.

Present plans call for allotting a percentage of the fund to hotels so that free meals may be served there to the Royal Navy men. Theaters and transportation systems would receive a share so they could provide the sailors with tickets at reduced prices. Members of the committee hope to take them on picnics during the summer months providing transportation to and from the city.

Many of the Royal Navy men have received about $20 a month or less than $1 a day. Citizens' War Services point out that even a streetcar ride to the city and

back makes a considerable dent in a day's pay.

Victorians wishing to contribute to the fund should send their cheques to Capt. Norman Foster, executive secretary, Citizens' War Services Committee, Chamber of Commerce.

Feature of last week's playground activities at Beacon Hill was an all girl charm class Friday morning. In the afternoon, "Blue Beard" was presented by Mrs. V. DiCastri and her drama group.

A dramatization of the story of Joseph, led by Miss Dorothy Davies, was presented Thursday morning. Miss Ursula Pottinger and Miss Mary Hummel instructed in folk dancing in the afternoon and stories were told to the younger boys and girls by Mrs. F. Davidson. Miss V. Meyers took weaving with the older girls.

A model airplane workshop for the boys was held Friday afternoon. Mrs. R. Patenaude led in the paper work and Bob Mines assisted with tumbling.

Tuesday morning 170 girls were instructed in swimming at the Crystal Pool by Fred Ellison. In the afternoon the story of Joseph was told, and Miss M. Carter had a group of children drawing pictures.

Other unusual events were the simple dramatization of nursery rhymes led by Mrs. V. DiCastri, first lesson to the girls in the basic tap steps by Miss Bonnie Dymond and instruction in card sewing for the children under eight by Miss V. Meyers.

Back From Overseas

Five Victoria and district soldiers, returned to Canada aboard the Lady Nelson, are among a group of B.C. servicemen due to arrive in Vancouver aboard a C.P.R. train at 8.45 Wednesday morning.

These are: Pte. R. R. Berkeley, Ladysmith; Pte. T. Blake, 1780 Denison Street; Tpr. J. Piercy, 1503 Chambers Street; Pte. J. E. Stahl, 740 Hillside Avenue, and Sgt. J. W. Winning, 725 Pine Street.
